

House Kills a Bill to Hike Membership

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Proving that some of the best-laid political plans can come a cropper, the House has killed a bill to increase its membership from 435 to 438.

A voice vote returning the measure to a committee pigeonhole Thursday climaxed one of the most hectic and confused House sessions in years.

The bill would have given Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Missouri one more House seat than they will be entitled to under 1960 census figures.

The measure suddenly lost so much of its carefully arranged support that backers couldn't even muster the 80 votes needed for a rollcall.

Just before the final action, its one-time champion, Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, disavowed his support because of an amendment that would have forced the calling of special sessions of the legislatures in the three states to redistrict their congressional seats. Failure to call such a session or to enact redistricting laws would have required all House candidates from the three states to run on a statewide basis.

The amendment was offered by the bill's author and floor manager, Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., and it caught friends and foes by surprise although it had been discussed in previous committee sessions.

Walter, who said that the bill was dead as far as he was concerned, told reporters he offered the amendment because he made a commitment to Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

The commitment, which Halleck acknowledged, was that a new redistricting law in Pennsylvania would salvage the seat of veteran Ivor D. Fenton, Republican, whose re-election was in doubt under a redistricting law already passed in Pennsylvania.

It was to help Fenton that Halleck rallied GOP support for the bill. The purpose of the amendment was to make certain that Fenton would be taken care of.

Other Pennsylvanians, however, feared that the legislature might fail to enact a new redistricting law and force them to run on a statewide race. Generally it is considered more hazardous politically to campaign statewide instead of in a familiar district. Also, it is more expensive.

Hope Student Editor of UA Newspaper

Fayetteville — James H. (Jimmy) Jones of Hope, a senior majoring in journalism at the U of A has been named editor of the Traveler, the campus' daily newspaper.

The UA Board of Publication Wednesday named Jones to the editors' post and reappointed Sandra (Sandy) Hillman of Stuttgart business manager. Miss Hillman has served as business manager the past three semesters.

Jones, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones, will take over his new duties in May, succeeding Armit Snow of Conway. Jones will return to the University to do graduate work next fall.

The new editor has served as a staff writer, assistant sports editor and news editor of the Traveler. His father is an alumnus of the university.

Negroes Seek to Integrate Parks at L. R.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A group of Negro taxpayers has filed a suit to desegregate Little Rock parks and recreational facilities—only two years after the end of violence over school integration here.

Wiley Branton, the Negro attorney who filed the suit in U.S. District Court Thursday, said he was certain the action would bring about desegregation of the facilities, since it is similar to suits filed in other Southern cities.

"Without question the court has always ordered desegregation of all facilities" in such cases, he said.

The group of 22 Negroes which filed the suit includes doctors, lawyers, clergymen and political leaders.

The action asks for desegregation of the one white swimming pool, city parks, tennis courts golf courses and the municipal auditorium.

There are separate swimming pools, auditoriums and tennis courts, but the city's two golf courses are for white only. Negroes are not allowed to use the white swimming pool "by custom," said City Manager Ancel Douthett, but he added that the city enforces the custom.

Negroes are allowed to use the five white city parks, and there is one all-Negro park. The zoo and a city-owned amusement park are not segregated.

There was no immediate comment on the suit from city officials or segregationist leaders.

Little Rock became synonymous with racial strife in 1957 when its high schools were desegregated. Gov. Orval E. Faubus sent National Guardsmen to keep Negroes out of Little Rock Central High School in 1959 after a federal court had ordered the school desegregated. Then President Eisenhower sent federal troops to get the students in.

Violence followed at the school, then a year of enforced integration during which troops stood guard outside the building.

Faubus closed the high schools in 1958 but in 1959 city voters voted out the three staunch segregationist members of the school board, and a group of moderates controlled the board and opened schools.

A march on integrated Central High in August, 1959, was stopped by club-swinging police, and the organized resistance died on a street corner one block from the rambling school building.

Integration-linked bombings of school offices and city property followed and five men were sent Continued on Page Six

IF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY VOTERS APPROVE A BOND issue Tuesday, March 20, the egg industry of southwest Arkansas will take a giant step forward with construction of a big processing plant here by Delight Egg Farms, Inc., a partnership venture of Olson Brothers of Los Angeles and Corn Belt Hatcheries of Hope. Picture shows an egg-washing machine now in use in the present small egg plant of Delight situated in Hope, which typifies the machines to be used in the big plant.

COUNTY VOTERS ON MARCH 20 WILL CONSIDER A $245,000 bond issue, of which only $225,000 will be spent, and a 2-mill tax, which will never be actually levied unless Delight Egg Farms, Inc., defaults on its contract.

THE $200,000 UNSPENT PORTION OF THE BOND ISSUE will be invested at an interest rate higher than the bonds bring, and will be a reserve to cover one year's bond service should there be a temporary default.

UNDER ITS CONTRACT DELIGHT EGG FARMS, GETS $225,000 of the bond proceeds for construction purposes, and will repay this at the rate of $15,000 a year for 15 years. If the contract is fully met the 2-mill tax to be authorized March 20 never will be levied.

THE PROJECT BEING VOTED ON MARCH 20 WAS originally scheduled for Dallas, Texas, by Olson Brothers, but Cornbelt Hatcheries demanded that Hempstead county be given first shot at it.

Schools Plan Big Chicken Fry Thursday

Biggest "Chicken Fry" ever held in the Hope Schools is scheduled for Thursday, March 15.

All students eating in the school lunchroom will be served chicken that day as a part of a statewide "School Lunch Salute to the Arkansas Fryer," according to James H. Jones, Supt. of Schools.

This means that about 975 Arkansas schools participating in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's National School Lunch Program will be serving chicken on March 15, providing a market for more than 44 tons of Arkansas poultry.

"It will take 420 pounds of broiler-fryers to meet our needs for one meal," said Mr. Jones "for the cafeteria is always jammed with nearly all of our students when fried chicken is served — a mighty high tribute to the Arkansas Fryer."

Mostly meaty pieces will be served because the USDA Type A lunch requires a two ounce serving of cooked, lean meat or other protein rich food.

If every school lunch program in the state served fried chicken twice a month during the school year, it would mean a market for more than 800 tons of chicken.

This statewide School Lunch Salute to the Arkansas Fryer has been proclaimed by the Governor for March 15. It is sponsored by the Arkansas School Food Service Assn. (an organization of School Lunch workers) with the assistance of the School Lunch Division of the State Department of Education and the Poultry Industry.

Haynes Chapel Observance

The 8th anniversary of the re-formation of the Rev. J. D. Demps will be observed Sunday at the Haynes Chapel Baptist Church, three miles southeast of Hope. The sermon at 2:30 p.m. will be delivered by the Rev. L. Redden of Cullen, La.

Woman Gets Paid for Injuries

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Claims Commission recommended Thursday that Mrs. Georgia Ann Scott of Gurdon be paid $2,557 for injuries she received in a fall from a culvert on U.S. Highway 67 at Gurdon March 10, 1961.

Mrs. Scott had sought $3,875. If the legislature approves the judgment next year, the money will be paid from state Highway Department funds.

Other awards approved included:

James Gwatney, North Little Rock, $661 for eye injury from a stone thrown by a Highway Department mowing machine.

Elmer and Tina Smith of Story, $500 for property damage resulting from paving Highway 27.

The commission delayed until April 4 action on claims by Cone and Stowers, Inc., Searcy, seeking $3,812 for State Hospital construction delay and the estate of deceased state Supreme Court Justice T. H. Humphries for $1,322 in unpaid retirement funds.

J. C. Timberlake, 82, a Former Legislator, Dies

John C. Timberlake, aged 82, lifelong resident of the DeAnn community, died at his home on Thursday. He was a retired farmer and merchant, member of the Methodist Church and served two terms as State Representative.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John M. Staggall of Houston; two sisters, Sally Timberlake of DeAnn, Mrs. E. R. Brewer of Tullis, La.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the DeAnn Methodist Church by the Rev. Darrell Bunt and the Rev. Leroy Samuel. Burial will be in Holly Grove Cemetery.

Planes Blast Guerrillas in Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese fighter-bombers today battered the Mekong River delta while ground forces pushed through swamps near the South China Sea hunting guerrillas.

There were no immediate reports on the results of the air strikes carried out by B25 two-engine bombers and T28 single-engine fighters equipped with rockets, machine guns and bombs.

The hunt for the Viet Cong guerrillas continued over much of the southern third of the country, but no important new government operations other than the aerial attacks were announced today.

Military sources said Vietnamese forces killed 33 guerrillas and captured four in an operation Thursday supported by U.S. Army helicopters in southernmost Annam Province.

Five U.S. helicopters were hit by small arms fire in the operation but all returned to their base without casualties.

U.S. Army mechanics worked to repair a helicopter forced down Thursday by engine trouble in Communist-infested delta territory while airlifting government troops. No American casualties were reported. Vietnamese troops stood guard around the copter.

Raps Faubus for Keeping ESD Workers

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The executive board of the Little Rock branch of the American Association of University Women complained to the Secretary of Labor Thursday refusal of the Arkansas Employment Security Division to fire two employees convicted of violating the Hatch Act.

The federal Civil Service Commission was directed that the two employees, Charles F. Wood and Luke Arnett, be dismissed for soliciting funds for Gov. Orval E. Faubus' 1960 campaign.

In a letter to Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg, the AAUW said, "We were surprised that the administrator of the ESD chose to forfeit approximately $30,000 rather than conform to the Civil Service Commission directive."

The directive ordered the state to fire the two men or lose twice their annual salaries in federal funds.

The ESD, a state agency, operates under federal funds administered by the Labor Department. ESD employees fall under Hatch Act regulations.

Faubus has said he has no intention of firing either Wood or Arnett.

State Industry Prospects Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Prospects of Arkansas receiving more industry are picking up, the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission was told Thursday.

William P. Rock, executive secretary of the AIDC, said representatives of 13 prospective industries, including two large outfits, visited the state during the last 30 days.

Rock said such visits began increasing last December. Prior to that, he said, Arkansas averaged about five a month.

Rock also reported that two new local industrial commissions have been formed at Paris and Conway.

Seminar on Delinquency Well Received

A Seminar on Juvenile Delinquency at the Hempstead County Courthouse yesterday attracted some 200 law enforcement officers, court judges, teachers, attorneys and others. Circuit Judge Bobby Steel of Nashville and Lytle Brown of Hope presided.

The conference started at 9 a.m. and continued throughout the day, closing at 5 p.m. following a discussion of the search and seizure methods by Arkansas Attorney General Frank Holt.

Prior to a general discussion through questions and answers, Mr. Holt advised the group that under recent decisions the U. S. Supreme Court has refused to admit cases where evidence was illegally secured. He told officers the law protects the public against unreasonable search and seizure and advised them to equip themselves with warrants showing probable cause, describing the place and persons to be searched and the things to be seized. If an arrest is lawful the courts never question seizures in connection with such arrests, he declared.

Earlier in the day George W. D'Artois, president of the International Juvenile Officers Assn., Shreveport, emphasized 3 things: 1. Proper training of officers and proper handling of juvenile offenders; 2. Each police and sheriff's department should have and personnel trained and designated for juvenile work; 3. These specially designated officers should attend the National Juvenile Associations training conference in St. Louis June 26-29.

Mrs. Edmund Cargill, state welfare juvenile probation worker, the first one of this kind in Arkansas, told the group she assists in all juvenile cases whether it be misdemeanor or felony. Her work is confined to Hempstead, Lafayette, Miller and Nevada counties. However she said that other offices in other areas of the state are planned by the Welfare Department.

"We try to find out the background and environment of the juvenile offenders and this helps us to make recommendations to officials in dealing with the particular offender. Our work is already bearing good fruit," she said. Officials of this area are enthusiastic about the work being done by Mrs. Cargill.

Judge Chris Barnette, Shreveport, juvenile judge, outlined procedures in his court and work being done for delinquents.

The training schools for girls and the program being carried out was discussed by Mrs. A. J. Crubbaugh, Russellville, chairman of the Board.

The program being used at the Boys' Training School was outlined by Dean Y. Howell, Supt., Pine Bluff.

Miss Ruth Johnson, director of the Arkansas Child Welfare Division, discussed the foster home program for children; and the uniform reciprocal enforcement support law was the subject of Ivan H. Smith, attorney for the State Department of Welfare.

Taking confession and statements of witnesses and their use was discussed by Capt. Paul R. McDonald, chief criminal division of the Arkansas State Police.

Judge Orin O. Byers welcomed the group to Hope and arrangements were carried out by Prosecuting Attorney Royce Weinberger.

The Rev. A. D. Livingston will preach at New Liberty Baptist Church Sunday, at both the morning and night services.

Candidate Fees Fixed, Precinct Is Abolished

The Hempstead Democratic Central Committee met at Hope City Hall this morning, set the election dates, fixed fees and abolished one precinct. Chairman W. S. Atkins presided.

The group abolished Beard's Chapel precinct, combining it with Piney Grove.

At the suggestion of Mr. Atkins a committee was named to make an audit of the Central Committee books at least every two years. This committee includes Vincent Foster, A. P. Delaney and W. W. White.

The election dates were fixed by resolution as July 31 and Aug. 14. Another resolution was passed paying tribute to the late Walker Chambers who was a member of the committee for 30 years.

The Chairman noted the unusually high fees charged in the last election and pointed out that enough money had to be charged to stand the cost of two elections. However, for the first time in years, only one election was required. He noted that three candidates were refunded $119 each and six were refunded $85. The committee voted to follow this same policy this year.

A committee composed of Vincent Foster, A. G. Martin and Solomon Goodlett was named to have charge of candidates drawing for places on the ballot when the ticket closes.

Fees were fixed as follows: Circuit Judge, Chancery Judge and Prosecuting Attorney, $100.

Sheriff, Treasurer, Circuit Clerk County Clerk, Assessor and County Judge, $700 without opposition and $500 with opposition.

Municipal Judge $250, this covers a four year term.

Justices of the Peace $5; Constable $10; Coroner and Surveyor $50 each and the legislature fixed its own fees for senators and representatives at $25.

Committee members and candidates were guests of W. S. Atkins and Judge Orin Byers for luncheon at Hotel Barlow today noon.

McClellan Warns About Base Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., will testify in the mail fraud trial of Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa's lawyers subpoenaed McClellan and four Senate employees or former employees to testify in the trial of a 16-count indictment in connection with promotion of a housing project near Orlando, Fla. The trial begins Monday in federal District Court in Orlando.

Thursday, the Senate adopted two resolutions permitting the senator and the employees to appear. But they will not be allowed to take Senate documents or private papers with them.

The subpoenas, among other things, raise a question as to whether there was wire-tapping in various Senate investigations of Hoffa.

ABA Spotlights New Industry

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The Arkansas Basin Association opened its two-day annual meeting here today with the spotlight on potential industrial development of the valley.

William P. Rock, executive secretary of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, will be Saturday's featured speaker.

Effects of water transportation on potential industrial development was the subject of a panel discussion today.

The ABA has been a leader in pushing for development of a navigation channel on the Arkansas. Work is underway with target date for completion of the project about 1970.

Driving Autos Depends on Grades
HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Students of Helena Central High School must make at least average grades if they want to drive automobiles to school next year.

Richard Christian, the school's principal, said Monday students who made D's or F's would not be allowed to drive automobiles on campus.
Only students who are 15 years of age or older will be eligible to drive, Christian said.

Adoption by a Cat Is an Experience

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you ever been adopted by a cat? If you haven't, you have missed an experience in life which is unusual and, on the whole, rather flattering.

For nearly four years the cat in our house, Lady Dottie, put up with me with majestic indifference. In the hierarchy of her interests I rated slightly above the laundryman, but far below the butcher's delivery boy.

Lately, for no apparent reason, all that changed. Lady Dottie seems to have a crush on me, I have become her No. 1 pinup boy. In the morning she walks to the door and watches wistfully while I get into the elevator that whisks me out of her world.

At night when I return she rubs against my legs and gives a plaintive mew, as if to say, "Where have you been?"

When I stretch out on the sofa with the evening paper, Lady Dottie curls up at my side. Occasionally I read her an editorial, and she turns on her interior dynamo and emits a soft feline rumbling—one of the most contented sounds in nature.

Now and then I reach down and absent-mindedly stroke her satin sides, and she arches her head and gives me a look of coquettish gratification.

Lady Dottie formerly cared little whether I stayed or strayed. Now she smoothes me with affection, and has become something of a showoff to gain my attention and approval.

The other members of my family became a bit put out by Lady Dottie's belated fondness for me, and I suspect—a bit jealous.

"Maybe she's just sick and doesn't know what she's doing," suggested my small daughter.

Observatory New Chapter in Space

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Signaling a new chapter in the scientific exploration of space, a solar observatory raced around the globe today gathering a wealth of data about sun-earth relations.

The new U.S. satellite, nicknamed OSO-1, was fired into orbit a Thor-Delta rocket. The name derives from Orbiting Solar Observatory.

Scientists hope that OSO-1 and several similar spacecraft will unravel many mysteries of the sun, how it influences weather, communications and other conditions on earth and how great a danger solar radiation poses for human space travelers.

Dr. Hugh Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said OSO-1 is in many respects the most advanced satellite ever launched.

"With it," Dryden declared, "scientific exploration of space enters a new phase."

The space agency hopes to launch at least one OSO-type helpfully.

"Well, it all started about two weeks ago," I recalled. "I remember reading about an item from the newspaper, and Lady Dottie came right over and leaped upon my lap."

"What was the item about?" asked my wife.

"It was about a rich old lady who died and left $50,000 to her cat," I replied.

"That solves the mystery," said my wife. "Lady Dottie is simply trying to get you to mention her in your will."

How do you like that? You can't trust even a cat—let alone women. All either of them think about is how to separate a man from his money.

satellite a year to chart an entire 11-year sunspot cycle.

Sunspots—or flares—are eruptions of thermonuclear energy on the surface of the sun which send streams of radiation hurtling through the solar system. During periods of intense flare activity, this radiation would pose a lethal threat to space pilots venturing beyond the earth's atmosphere.

The next period of extreme activity will occur in 1967-68-69—the years the United States plans to send three-man Apollo spacecrafts around and to the moon.

Scientists hope OSO and its successors will lead to a method of predicting when large flares will erupt and thus enable manned flights to be scheduled around them.

Dryden said snow avalanches are faster than wet-snow slides. The dry-snow varieties create a vacuum in their wake.

Price, spice and everything nice!

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. Any wonder Chevy II won Car Life magazine's 1962 Engineering Excellence award hands down? Girl Scouts Feminine and Hardy

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Miss Sandra Hughes

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifty years ago the early Girl Scouts were admonished to be womanly. "None of us likes women who are men" is a rewarding line in the first handbook.

Eighteen and a half million Girl Scouts later the sentiment, if not the sentence, is substantially the same. Hardy hikers and campers though they are, the Girl Scouts who will celebrate the organization's 50th birthday next week are as feminine as teenagers can be.

Back when Juliette Low started the first troop in Savannah, Ga., on March 12, 1912, being womanly included mastery of the graceful art of swooning. But it wasn't all basket-weaving, baby-minding and good deeds for the pioneer scouts. They were expected to know how to shoot in self defense, milk a cow, handle importunate men.

That first 1913 handbook, called "How Girls Can Help Their Country," talked to its tender readers like a Dutch uncle, while teaching them such practical skills as how to secure a burglar with eight inches of cord, check a runaway horse and conduct themselves romantically.

It inveighed against smoking and drinking. It suggested that the "reading of novels unfits one's mind for doing good to others." And in an italicized aside to instructors, it advised: "Keep on a smile, but never let it be a smile of contempt. Hate nothing but sin."

Since those days needs have changed. The rifle marksmanship badge has been dropped, while cow-milking proficiency has become specialized—in the dairymaid badge, one of 116 the girls can earn now.

From that first dozen Savannah girls' membership for girls 7 through 17 has grown to today's 3 1/2 million, including 760,000 adults, 40,000 of them men.

Over the years the uniform has undergone transformation—from the first dark blue middie, through formidable shapes in khaki to the current couture-designed green dress.

But although people, program and apparel have changed, the Girl Scout's purpose has remained constant: To do her duty to God and country, to help other people, to lead a clean, kind, honest life.

Negro Charged in Slaying

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Sidney Moore, 23, of near Three Creeks, Ark., accused of fatally shooting a Louisiana Negro, was formally charged with first degree murder here Wednesday.

Moore is accused of the shotgun slaying of Willie Lee Bursey, also 23, of Haynesville, La., after a fight in a truck stop cafe at Dodge City, 15 miles southwest of here on the Arkansas-Louisiana, last Saturday.

J. H. Cockrell, owner of the cafe, told officers that Moore had fought with Leonard Modisette, a Dodge City Negro, and that he broke up the fight.

Cockrell said he fired one shot from a .38 caliber pistol, wounding Moore in the hand. Officers quoted Benny Hicks, a witness, as saying Moore returned later with the shotgun and shot Bursey after apparently mistaking him for Cockrell.

Four other Negroes arrested following the shooting have been released.

Moore is free under $3,500 bond.

Malvern to Vote on Airport

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—A special election on an airport construction proposal was approved Wednesday by the Malvern city council.

Date of the election is to be set by Mayor Howard Wright. Final date for application for federal assistance in the project is March 16.

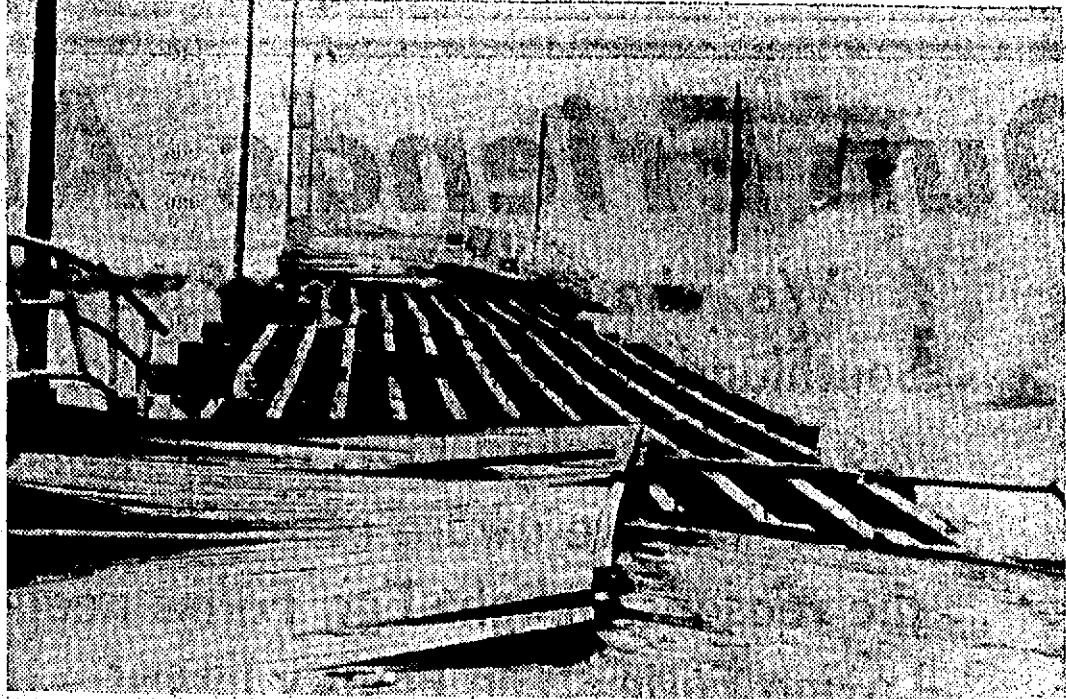

The airport would be municipally owned. A similar proposal was defeated in Malvern two years ago.

American business to set up shop in Western Europe. Labor leaders call this exporting jobs.

Communities where plants feel any ill effects from tariff cuts also are letting their Congressmen know of their fears.

But many companies will profit by any easing of European restrictions on the entry of American made goods. The European market for consumer goods is growing fast. American firms making such goods have complained that European tariffs, quotas and other restrictions hold down their export potential.

It is this mixed picture—some American companies and workers being hurt, others standing to gain at least in the long run—that will account for all the heated oratory starting next week in congressional committee hearings.

Beautiful Hat Model Longs to Be Old-Fashioned Grandmother

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I have been working for years as a professional hat model, meet the public daily and am liked by everybody but my daughter and her husband. Even worse is their refusal to let me see our 5-year-old grandchild, except at rare intervals, and then under supervision.

Our daughter, at 30, has had three marriages and plenty of rough experiences. The only time I hear from her is when she needs something. Then, I always come through.

In all their eight years of marriage her husband has never made a real living.

I'm 50, my husband 55. We belong to the Community Church, are active in civic affairs, have loads of wonderful friends. Our grand-daughter loves us as much as we love her but in the last few times we've seen her, appears very nervous and is stuttering, which indicates that our daughter is evidently trying to alienate her from us. We fear that the child will become frustrated and emotional if we continue to see her.

To satisfy my longing to be an old-fashioned grandmother, I work certain days a month in the children's ward of the local hospital. The youngsters love me and I them—but, of course, it's not like having your own flesh and blood to lavish affection upon. Should we put our little granddaughter and her mother out of our hearts and lives forever? —Heartbroken Grandmother

Dear Heartbroken. Actually, this concerns you and your daughter more than it does your little grandchild. While holding no brief for your daughter, I detect a hint of self-righteousness in your letter which may be at the root of your problem.

Trouble such as this between mother and daughter, is deep-seated and of long standing. Search back in your life to the first time you did not see eye to eye. Talk it over with your husband, then ask the daughter and her husband to discuss the situation, being careful to explain that you are deliberately humbling yourself in an effort to prove that you are at heart, an old-fashioned grandmother who loved her family—especially her little grand-daughter.

If your daughter is unattractive, jealousy of your beauty could be the cause. A good, heart-to-heart family talk won't do harm in any case. Incidentally, they all should be proud of you—a professional.

Mrs. Kennedy Leaves for 20-Day Tour

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy leaves by plane tonight for a 20-day trip to Italy, India, Pakistan and Britain.

The First Lady spent Thursday night at the Carlyle Hotel, where she and her husband have a penthouse apartment.

She was joined at the hotel Thursday by her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill of London who will accompany her on the trip.

Mrs. Kennedy arrived here Thursday on the family plane. The President saw her off at the airport in Washington. Secret Service men escorted Mrs. Kennedy on an auto drive from La Guardia Airport to the hotel. She had several trunks and hatboxes.

Mrs. Kennedy will spend the weekend in Rome, where her schedule calls for an audience with Pope John XXIII and a courtesy call on President Giovanni Gronchi. From Rome, she will go to India and Pakistan. She and her party expect to fly to London March 26 before returning to the United States.

Pierre Salinger, presidential press secretary, said in Washington Thursday that Mrs. Kennedy will pay her own travel expenses and those of her sister.

Salinger said Mrs. Kennedy will not pay the costs of others accompanying her. He gave newsmen no answer to questions whether the government would pay for the others. The trip will be by commercial and charter planes.

$1-Million Loan to State Finance Corp.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., announced today that the federal Small Business Administration will lend $1 million to the First Arkansas Development Finance Corp.

The senator made the announcement in a speech prepared for delivery at the industrial financing agency's annual meeting.

Fulbright said the loan would be made under a 1958 act which permits lending to state development companies up to a total amount equal to the amount raised from other sources.

FADFC will reloan the money to industry.

FADFC's annual report listed total assets at $2,112,707. Assets a year ago totaled $1,325,272. The report said $1,612,981 in industrial loans were outstanding as of Dec. 31, 1961, compared to $904,168 on the same date in 1960.

Herbert L. Thomas, FADFC board chairman, called in the principal speech for more teamwork in Arkansas' industrial effort.

He said Arkansas' past success in this field has been due largely to close co-operation among the state government, the state Chamber of Commerce, utilities and bankers.

FADFC specializes in loans to industries which might have trouble obtaining funds by other methods.

FADFC was launched 2 1/2 years ago with a total capital of $1.3 million. $109,000 was raised by private subscription of leading businessmen. Utilities put up another $923,725 for purchase of preferred stock.

In the past two years, the corporation has borrowed about $1 million from various sources for relending.

Charges Bombings to Algeria Rebels

ALGIERS (AP)—French headquarters announced today that Algerian rebel units based in Tunisia have been bombarding French frontier defenses for the past 36 hours, starting shortly before the peace negotiations opened in Evian, France.

A French communique said mortar and artillery fire smashed down on a number of points along the electrified frontier barrier Tuesday night. The shelling continued throughout Wednesday night, the communique said. The French said five Algerian Muslim civilians had been killed and 20 Muslims and four members of the French army had been wounded so far.

Big Tariff Battle Is Just Starting

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The big tariff battle is just starting. Congressional hearings open Monday on President Kennedy's plan to scrap all duties on goods which the United States and Europe between them produce at least 80 per cent of the world's total output.

While Americans in and out of Congress debate this, many are trying to assess what will happen to their business and their jobs in the case of other tariff cuts already decided upon and soon to be put into effect.

The United States and Western European countries agreed in January on these cuts, ranging up to 20 per cent on many items. The agreement was formally signed in Geneva Wednesday.

Under the rules of the negotiations, which lasted 16 months, the items included were kept secret until all nations concerned could ratify the pact.

The cuts in American tariffs can affect many businesses and communities. The reciprocal cuts by Europeans also can open up opportunities for many American companies.

The reaction to these new cuts under the soon to expire Reciprocal Trade Act may set the tone for the debate in Congress on the much more stringent tariff revisions President Kennedy proposes.

Industries fearing still stiffer competition from European goods, either in American home markets or overseas, already are complaining about the cuts going into effect, let alone any abolition of tariffs such as the President proposes.

Labor unions in these industries fear falling output will mean shorter work weeks with less pay or loss of jobs. Some fear tariff cutting will speed up the trend of to prison. Fausb later paroled them. The only racial incidents here in the past year were sit-in demonstrations, none of major proportions.

Negroes Seek

Desegregation as an issue seemed a moot point in Little Rock, until Thursday. Members of the commission which controls the city auditorium said they feared white attendance at auditorium events might decline if the audience was desegregated.

Branton said the auditorium would be able to book more big name performers if the audience is not segregated. Duke Ellington canceled a concert here last Sept. 5 when he learned his band would play for an all-white audience.

Although the suit is not an action of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Branton said he had asked Jack Greenberg of New York, general counsel for the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund, Inc., to help in the case.

Branton said the group of Negroes had discussed desegregation of public facilities with the city manager board, but had gotten nowhere. Douthit confirmed that the board had considered desegregation last summer, but had not acted.

The suit asked for an injunction to bar enforcement of laws enforcing segregation.

Commutes by Plane Daily to Races

LIOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) - R. P. Bergfeld of Dallas commutes by plane daily to the horse races at Oaklawn.

Here's how his day goes: He opens his investment firm at Dallas at 8:30 a.m. and conducts business until 12:30 p.m. He leaves Dallas on a commercial airliner at 1:15 p.m. and is picked up by a flying service at Little Rock at 2:18 p.m., arriving here 20 minutes later and time to reach Oaklawn for the third or fourth race.

After the eighth race he boards a commercial flight to Dallas. He arrived there at 6:33 p.m., stops by his office to see how things have gone. By 7:30 p.m. he is home.

Bergfeld says he makes the daily air trips purely for relaxation. Asked if he made expenses at Oaklawn, he just smiled.

Optometrist Song Writer Succumbs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Dr. John Jacob Livingston, 86, author of "Keep 'em Flying" a World War II song died Thursday at a Little Rock hospital.

Dr. Livingston, a native of Enola in Faulkner County, had practiced optometry in Little Rock for over 40 years and served three terms as president of the Arkansas Optometric Association.

He wrote an estimated 75 songs, with 15 being published. Funeral arrangements are pending. Survivors include his widow.

Man Arrested in Gambling Raid

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) - A man identified as C. Cameron was released under $500 bond Thursday after being arrested in a gambling raid at a hotel here Wednesday.

Cameron is charged with book-making. Police Chief J. G. Thomas said $1,000 in cash was found in the hotel room along with betting slips and other gambling paraphernalia.

Thomas said the betting ranged from $1 to $450 and was mainly on races at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs.

Powers Has Different Story Now

EDITORS NOTE: Stanley Johnson covered the Moscow trial of Francis Gary Powers as a member of The Associated Press bureau in the Moscow capital.

Now home on leave he was on hand for Powers' appearance before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

By STANLEY JOHNSON
WASHINGTON (AP) - Francis Gary Powers sank back into cloak and dagger obscurity today.

He slipped out of the limelight after telling his story to the Senate Armed Services Committee, adding that he was still working for the Central Intelligence Agency.

This was a far cry indeed from what he said at his last public appearance - in Moscow's huge Hall of Columns Aug. 20, 1960, when he was sentenced to 10 years for espionage after his U2 plane was downed in the Soviet Union.

At that time, in soft and hesitant tones, Powers told the three-man Soviet military court that, if he ever got out of Soviet jails, he would have nothing to do with the profession that got him into his jam.

"It's back to the farm with me," the boy from the hills of southwestern Virginia said in effect.

But, judging from his testimony Tuesday, it's really back to the hills of northeastern Virginia where the CIA has its headquarters.

Powers never lost his self composure at the Moscow trial. He didn't lose it Tuesday, either. In the Soviet capital he came into the crystal chandelier-lit hall expecting the death sentence. He came into the Senate hearing room, also lit by crystal chandeliers, knowing his official review of course of conduct had been vindicated by an official CIA review.

The crowds, the lights, the cameras, the tables of reporters recalled the Moscow trial.

Both times he was soft spoken, shyly smiling, and with a nervous habit of twisting his hands together. He hadn't visibly lost weight during almost two years in Red prisons and his curly crew-cut hair didn't seem any grayer.

Powers is the only Westerner who has been in solitary confinement in Moscow's dread Lubyanka prison and lived to come out and just a calmly told tale of a cell with one bench, bad meals, and interrogations lasting up to 12 hours a day.

At his Soviet trial Powers seemed a man bound by the principle "see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." It was the same Tuesday.

For the first time he explained publicly what he meant to get across by his courtroom apology for his spy mission. However, he had already told his family in a tearful reunion and they had told the press. This explanation was, "My main sorrow was that the mission failed and I was causing unfavorable publicity for the States."

The handsome young pilot, a smile at the corner of his lips, left the old Senate Office Building with his two sisters as big an enigma as when led away to serve his Soviet jail term in 1960.

Could anyone ask any more of a secret agent - even one who played the spy trade in the wild blue yonder?

Fayetteville, NLR Highest Ranking Teams

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fayetteville and North Little Rock, the highest-ranked teams in the Class AA-AAA state basketball tournament, take 12 game winning streaks into tonight's semifinal game against each other.

They meet at 8:50 p.m. Jonesboro and Fort Smith play the first semifinal game at 7:30 p.m. Winners meet Saturday night for the tournament championship.

All four semifinalists took quarterfinal victories Thursday. Jonesboro impressed with a 45-39 victory over Little Rock Hall, co-champion with North Little Rock in the Class AAA Big Nine Conference.

Fayetteville had an easy time beating Greene County Tech 66-50. North Little Rock hammered Springdale 51-34 and Fort Smith beat Paragould 35-30.

Both semifinal games are toss-ups. North Little Rock doesn't have Fayetteville's height, but the Northsiders have gotten stronger through the season's stretch and have a good chance of beating the team ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press final schoolboy poll.

Fort Smith Coach Gayle Kaundert has a bag of tricks to pull on classy Jonesboro, which goes into the semifinals with a 26-6 record.

Justin Daniels and Fred Rice led Fayetteville past Greene County Tech, scoring 14 points each. Bill Baxter hit 23 for Greene County. Fayetteville led throughout, and built the lead to 58-35 before running in the substitutes late in the game. Then Greene County cut the margin.

North Little Rock crushed Springdale with a full-court press. Ronnie LeMay netted 14 points in leading the Wildcats and David Finch led Springdale with 12. North Little Rock led 23-15 at halftime and put the pressure on the Bulldogs in the second half to hold the advantage.

Fort Smith and Paragould were tied 18-18 at halftime, then Fort Smith went into a stall and grabbed a 29-23 lead on the shooting of Philip Young. He sank 12 of 14 free throws and wound up with 14 points. Brothers Manuel and Gary Washington each scored 12 for Paragould.

Jonesboro showed its defense in holding Hall to 10 points in the second half after Hall had held a three-point halftime advantage. The Hurricane sewed it up with free throws and a field goal in the final minutes. Ken Johnson led Jonesboro with 12 points and Wayne Newton scored 12 for Hall.

Sailors Picked on All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Ken Snijders, who led Arkansas Tech to the Arkansas Intercollegiate conference basketball championship with a 31.8 season scoring average, has been named to the second team of The Associated Press' Little All-America team.

Sailors easily took scoring honors in the AIC. His team lost to Ouachita in the Region 17 NIAA tournament in Pine Bluff earlier this week.

Sailors is a 6-4 senior from Puyall, Ark. He ranks fourth in NIAA national individual scoring. Roger Strickland of Jacksonville, Fla., is first with a 33.1 average. James Allen of Arkansas AM&N is eighth with a 29.1 average.

Allen also ranked eighth in individual free-throw shooting with 180 of 200 for an average of .855.

Majors Open Exhibition Season Sat.

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

Major league baseball's exhibition season opens Saturday with New York and Houston making their National League debuts and Manager Fred Hutchinson of the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds wearing the crown of man-most-on-the-spot.

Hutchinson was ceded top honors Thursday by Al Dark of the San Francisco Giants, whose most pressing problem was set by when NL home run king Orlando Cepeda ended his holdout by agreeing to terms for an estimated $46,000.

While the Reds hold the spotlight, attention in American League circles will be focused on Port Landorale, Fla., where the world's champion New York Yankees and 61-homer hammerer Roger Maris open against the Baltimore Orioles.

Cincinnati bows against the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, Fla., and Mets make their debut with Casey Stengel as manager in a game against the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla., and Harry Craft leads the Colts at Palm Springs, Calif., against the Los Angeles Angels.

Rounding out the expanded 10-game schedule are Los Angeles (N) vs. Kansas City at Vero Beach, Fla.; Milwaukee vs. Detroit at Lakeland, Fla.; Philadelphia vs. Minnesota at Orlando, Fla.; Pittsburgh vs. Washington at Fort Myers, Fla.; Chicago (N) vs. Boston at Mesa, Ariz.; and San Francisco vs. Cleveland at Tucson, Ariz.

Hutchinson's prime concern is a replacement for Gene Freese, hard-hitting third baseman who produced 26 homers last year but will be sidelined for three months with a right ankle fracture suffered in an intra-squad game.

Cliff Cook, trying to make the big leagues after a 1961 season at Indianapolis in which he hit .311 with 32 homers and 119 RBIs, is getting a trial run. If he doesn't make it, outfielder Frank Robinson may have to switch to the infield.

The northern portions of North America and Europe abound with glacial lakes. Scandinavia, Ontario, Maine and Minnesota are among areas thickly set with the lakes.

Loud Laugh Track Has Premiere

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A series which may achieve the distinction of the year's worst and certainly the one with the loudest laugh track had its premiere Thursday night on CBS.

The name of the series — and don't say you haven't been warned — is "Oh! Those Bells."

Starring a trio called the Where brothers, it arrived as a replacement for the disappointing New Bob Cummings Show. The Bob Cummings show wasn't exactly a laugh riot, but compared with the hapless bells it was a blue-white, glass-cutting gem of comedy.

From the opening moment when the stuffed head of the moose caught one Where by the seat of the pants to the hilarious climax when the boss was accidentally hit on the head by a golf club, it was one long madcap bore.

Later in the evening, CBS resumed its gingerly treatment of the conservative political movement, begun two weeks ago on "CBS Reports."

The 30-minute program was billed as a searching closeup of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater. It was really just an interview with the Republican leader by reporter Eric Sevareid.

Sen. Goldwater answered a string of questions permitting him to explain his many beliefs and attitudes. Most of those boiled down to a diminution of federal powers, with greater authority returning to local, municipal and state government.

Jinx Falkenberg, who does the commercials on NBC's "Theatre '62" dramatic specials, has twice demonstrated how effective are her sponsor's washing and drying machines by donning a white beret-type hat which, she explains, has been laundered five times.

The chapeau, whipped up especially by milliner Sally Victor and put through five certified washings and dryings, brought an outpouring of admiring letters from (feminine) viewers when it was first shown. Jinx, figuring that was the end of the commercial, sent the hat to the author of the first letter with hers and the sponsor's compliments.

Then it was decided to do the hat-trick again. Sally Victor got an emergency call, produced a copy of the hat. Then Jinx gave it away again — to the wife of a man connected with the show.

Now it has been decided to do the hat trick still a third time — during "The Parade Case" show Sunday night. A special courier was dispatched Thursday to Connecticut to retrieve the beret — presumably for more laundering before air time.

"From now on," said Jinx, "I'll hang on to my hat."

Weather Plays Tricks at Oaklawn

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The weather played a cruel game of hide and seek with bettors at Oaklawn Park Thursday, hiding the horses in fog until the home stretch.

The 7,329 racing buffs on hand couldn't even tell where the horses were until they thundered down the stretch. Oaklawn officials said the weird weather had an adverse effect on betting, but $429,405 went into the till anyway.

John Ford's Tin God, lightly-regarded in a field of nine in the $3,500 feature race, took the lead from Irving Gushen's Bumpy Road in the last strides. P. F. Adwell's Alirah was third.

Tin God ran the six furlongs in 1:11 4-5 and paid $19.20, $8.80 and $8.20.

The crowd saw only the finish of the race. Field glasses were useless and even the track announcer couldn't see what was going on because of the fog. Racing Form experts could chart only one stretch call and the finish.

The starter signaled the start of each race by short-wave radio and the stewards set the teletimer in motion. Only by computing the time could the spectators judge the approximate location of the horses.

A six-furlong claiming event offering a purse of $3,200 gets top billing on today's nine-race card. Ten sprinters, all carrying $6,000 price tags, were entered.

Heading the field of 4-year-olds and up is Mrs. John L. Oglesby's Cyclades and Leo Weinberger's entry composed of Count Tempus and Colton Pickin.

Others entered are W. Hal Bishop's Curlicue, Calumnet and Flick's dear Sir, the River Divide Farm's The Lemon, Glen Murphy's Gene's Dream, Big Top Stable's Wading Butch, Jerome Dorezo's Prince Orsini and J.W. Mecom's Dixie Don.

Tournament Berths Will Be Decided

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer

Half the remaining field for both the NCAA and NIT, the nation's two big post-season college basketball tournaments, will be decided in a couple of key games tonight.

The Texas Tech-Southern Methodist playoff in Fort Worth will determine the Southwest Conference representative in the NCAA, and the winner of the Temple-St. Joseph's match in Philadelphia gets another of the four remaining berths in the 25-team tourney.

The loser in Philadelphia takes one of the two remaining spots in the 12-team NIT. The loser in Fort Worth simply calls it a season.

Each figures to be a tough one. In each case the opponents have season records that almost duplicate each other.

Tech, the defending champion, and SMU tied for the conference lead with 11-3 records. Doc Hayes' SMU Mustangs are 18-6 for the season, and Polk Robinson's Red Raiders from the Panhandle are 17-7. They split in regular season play. Tech taking the first 69-63 an dSMU winning the second 68-63, one of eight straight closing triumphs for the Mustangs.

Temple and St. Joe's each is 9-1 in the Mid-Atlantic Conference, with St. Joseph's climbing into a share of the top spot on the strength of a 78-68 triumph over Lafayette Tuesday.

Temple is 17-7 for the season, St. Joseph's 17-8. In a previous meeting, also on the Philadelphia Palestra floor where they'll play tonight, St. Joseph's managed a 53-49 squeaker.

The first of eight NCAA regional small college tourneys opened in Evansville, Ind., Thursday night with Evansville taking North Carolina A&T 97-82 and Southern Illinois blasting Union (Tenn.) 78-56. The winners meet tonight.

The other seven regionals start tonight.

Victories by a couple of major tourney entrants, New York University and St. John's, in a Madison Square Garden doubleheader featured Thursday night's light schedule.

NYU, which will play a first round game in the NCAA against Yankee Conference champion Massachusetts next week, edged Fordham 67-63.

St. John's, which opens play in the NIT next week, got a 32-point performance from 6-foot-10 Leroy Ellis in an 88-64 rout in Manhattan.

In other major activity, Texas whipped Texas Christian 73-61 in the makeup of a previously postponed Southwest Conference game. Oklahoma beat Missouri 63-55 and Boston College closed out with a 76-62 victory over Boston University.

Trout Hatchery to Be Expanded

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP)

Survey work has begun on expansion of the trout hatchery below Norfork Dam.

William O. Cox, manager of the hatchery, said engineers from the Federal Bureau of Sport Fisheries are now in Mountain Home to make the survey.

Estimated cost of the expansion, to include new pipelines and a new recreation building is $150,000. Congress appropriated funds for the project last year.

A second expansion, to cost $314,000 is planned, but federal funds have not yet been appropriated for the work.

Red Officer Sentenced for Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philip

Bart, identified as an officer of the U. S. Communist party, has been locked up for contempt for refusing to answer 47 questions put to him by a U.S. grand jury.

Bart, 59, a Brooklyn, N.Y., printer surrendered to U.S. marshals here Wednesday.

In a statement from New York, the Communist party said Bart — whom the party described as a veteran Communist and trade unionist — was sentenced because he refused to turn informer under the immunity law.

Bart was identified in court as organizational secretary of the Communist party in the United States. On Feb. 28 he was ordered imprisoned for up to six months for balking at grand jury questions about the party.

U.S. Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who cited Bart for contempt, gave him a stay last Friday to file an appeal. The appellate court Wednesday refused to grant a further stay and tentatively set March 31 for a hearing on Bart's appeal.

The Communist party said in its statement that the contempt action violates the guarantees of freedom of speech, press and association and other liberties protected by the Bill of Rights.

The party also said James E. Jackson, editor of the Worker and the Midwest Worker "faces similar victimization on Friday, when he is to appear before the grand jury under government offer of immunity."

"The invocation of the Immunity Act of 1954 is a subterfuge by which the Department of Justice hopes to put Communists in jail and destroy the party itself, while evading a test on the constitutionality of the law," the party said.

That was reference to a law which permits courts to promise immunity from federal prosecution to a witness who might otherwise refuse to testify on grounds of possible self-incrimination. The law was designed to compel testimony in cases involving national security.

Television Talks Are Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today a proposed exchange of television talks by President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev has been postponed because the atmosphere now is not right.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said plans for the joint show have been put off until later in the year.

"It was mutually agreed," he said, "that this particular time did not provide the right atmosphere for such an exchange."

Under original plans the two world leaders would have been on the air on March 25, in the midst of the deliberations at Geneva on disarmament.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that a special election will be held in Hempstead County, Arkansas on the 20th day of March, 1962, at which there will be submitted to the electors the question of issuing $245,000 in General Obligation Bonds under the provisions of Amendment No. 49 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas for the purpose of securing and developing industry within Hempstead County, Arkansas.

The bonds will be dated April 1, 1962 with interest thereon to be payable semi-annually on April 1 and October 1 of each year commencing October 1, 1962 at the rate accepted by the County at the public sale of the bonds, but not to exceed 6% per annum, and with the bonds to mature annually on April 1 of each year as follows, but to be callable for payment prior to maturity upon the terms specified by the County in the notice of the public sale of the bonds:

YEAR	AMOUNT
1965	$10,000
1966	12,000
1967	13,000
1968	14,000
1969	16,000
1970	19,000
1971	21,000
1972	22,000
1973	23,000
1974	23,000
1975	24,000
1976	24,000
1977	24,000

The bonds shall be sold at public sale as provided in Amendment No. 49 and may be sold with the privilege of conversion to an issue bearing a lower rate or rates of interest with any conversion to be in accordance with the Universal Bond Values Tables and upon such terms that the County receive no less and pay no more than it would receive and pay if the bonds were not converted, and with the conversion to be subject to the approval of the County Court.

In the event the issuance of the bonds is approved by the electors, there will be levied a continuing annual tax of two (2) mills which will be pledged to the payment of the principal of, interest on and paying agent's fees in connection with the bonds. The particular industrial project will consist of the acquisition of lands, the construction of an egg processing plant and facilities, construction of housing facilities for laying hens and the purchase and installation of necessary equipment and machinery therein. The cost of the project not covered by the bond issue will be paid by the industry. The portion of the project financed by the issuance of bonds will be owned by the County and leased to Delight Eggs Farms, Inc. for lease rentals at least sufficient to pay the principal of, interest on and paying agent's fees in connection with the bonds as the same become due and payable, and the collection of the tax will be suspended so long as project revenues are sufficient to pay the principal of, interest on and paying agent's fees in connection with the bonds as the same become due and payable.
